ASK -> CHECK -> VERIFY -> DECIDE

A quick-reference method for deciding what to do with an AI answer.

1

ASK

Be specific about what you need.

Give context, constraints, audience, format, and the decision you are trying to make.

2

CHECK

Read the answer like an editor, not a passenger.

Does it actually answer your question? Is anything vague, missing, oddly confident, or inconsistent?

3

Confirm anything that matters.

For dates, prices, medical/legal/financial details, quotes, statistics, links, or current facts, check a reliable source.

4

DECIDE

You make the final call.

Use AI as input - not permission. If the consequence matters, slow down before you send, buy, sign, publish, delete, or act.

Shortcut: If you cannot explain why you trust the answer, you are not at DECIDE yet.
